

A certain captain Rodrigo Um certo capitão Rodrigo

Directed by Anselmo Duarte / 1971 / 100'
Color

+ Selling Points

- From the same director of "O Pagador de Promessas" winner of the Golden Palm at Cannes Film Festival

Synopsis

A gentleman, half soldier, hair bleached by the sun, guitar on his back, enters the sleepy town of Santa Fé. Nobody could imagine that the man entering the city would also be entering their lives. Singing and drinking he caught the attention of the women and the admiration of men. A story teller, of adventures, of wars or lies? The truth is that he was a certain Captain Rodrigo. It was to no avail that Priest Lara tried to warn him of the moral quality of the modest damsels and the honor of the local society. On the first day the man of a salesman. After, Bibiana, Helga, India and Rosa. They were all taken in by his appeal and irreverence.

Genre: Drama

Cast: Francisco de Franco, Newton Prado, Alvaro Pereira, Elsa de Castro, Sonia Dutra, Pepita Rodrigues, Paixão Côrtes, Paulo Bresolin.

Language: Portuguese

Subtitles Available: no subtitles

Territories Available: All territories

Production Company: The motion picture company VERA CRUZ LTDA., Founded in December of 1949, produced or co-produced during its long life, more than 40 long films and some documentaries. Many of these films acquired national and international prestige and make up an integral part of the History of Brazilian Cinema.

About the Director: An actor who participated in dozens of films he is considered the biggest romantic lead in national cinema. Contracted at the beginning of 1950 by the São Paulo Studios "Vera Cruz", he plays the part of Zequinha de Abreu in "Tico Tico no Fubá". Director of the adaptation of the play by Dias Gomes. "O Pagador de Promessas" A film which received the Golden Palm Award at the Cannes Festival in 1962.

ADDITIONAL INFO

Market History:

Festival History:

Material available: DVD, Beta, Beta DIGITAL, UMATIC, Video 1 inch